

What to expect on your first visit?

You/your child will be assessed to find out if orthodontic treatment is required and if so, when. If you are ready for and happy to proceed with treatment, we will take patient records including impressions of the teeth so that plaster models could be constructed, photographs and radiographs. It is possible that your child may be too young to start treatment, in which case a recall appointment will be arranged to reassess the dental development at a later date, usually six monthly.

You may wish to consider private orthodontic treatment. If so let your orthodontist know to discuss the options.

Please update us if your address or medical history changes and let us know if you are unable to attend an appointment.

Welcome to our new state of the art orthodontic specialist practice. We hope you will enjoy your time with us.

Orthodontics is a specialty in dentistry which is concerned with the development and management of deviation from the normal position of the teeth, jaws and face. The aim of orthodontic treatment is to align any irregular teeth and give you a healthy functioning bite with a beautiful and confident smile.

The orthodontist:

Our orthodontist Dr Eman M El-Bahnassawy BDS(gla), MFDS RCS(edin), MSc(Lond), MOrth(edin) was first registered with the GDC in June 1999 following her graduation from Glasgow University school of dentistry. She completed her vocational training in North Yorkshire and returned to Glasgow to carryout a number of senior house officer jobs in various specialties in dentistry. In 2003 she started her specialist training in orthodontics at Kings College London University. Eman has worked with children for many years and she enjoys continuing to do so as an orthodontist.

She is also a clinical supervisor at Edinburgh Dental Institute EDI, training young orthodontic trainees.
